MINING HORSES BY ELECTRICITY.

In Australia, the most common of the Australian palms and the only one that extends from the tropics down southward to the temperate zone, is the eucalyptus. The storage height in this tree is not high, but single individuals occasionally attain a much greater height. The tree shown here is a specimen of the cutting down of the eucalyptus trees.—Philadelphia Record.

Improved Dusters. The ordinary dustpan from one door to another some of the dust is sure to fall out. Dust that is swept out the slightest wind blows it off the pan.

Good Movement Expected.
 An open, smooth, frictionless bearing is just as essential as a good piston in a steam engine. The bearing is the part of the engine that is most liable to wear and tear. It is the part that is most liable to become clogged and to cause the engine to stop. A good bearing is one that is smooth and that has a good fit. It is one that is made of a material that is hard and that is not liable to wear. It is one that is made of a material that is not liable to become clogged. It is one that is made of a material that is not liable to cause the engine to stop.

Winters Treatment.
 A correspondent of the Rural Magazine gives some excellent advice on the winter care of fowls. He made no extract from his article.

More About Milking Machines.
 One of our exchanges in referring to this machine says, as the farmer has before stated that it is a mechanical imitation of hand milking and requires very little power. Cows take kindly to it and let down their milk freely, and there is no need for hand stripping, as it milks clean. A most important consideration is that it insures absolute cleanliness in the milk. The milk passes through no tubes, goes direct from the cow into the bucket. One man or boy can attend to four machines and can milk from four to five cows in twenty minutes or about fifteen cows per hour, as many as eighteen cows per hour having been successfully handled. These mechanical methods will be a great boon to dairymen, not merely on the ground of cost but also because they will add greatly to the purity of the milk.

Value of Skim Milk for Laying Hens.
 The Department of Agriculture has received a report from the West Virginia Experiment Station of a test made to determine the value of skim milk as a liquid water for wetting a feed mash.
 In the first test, which covered 122 days, twenty-two hens fed skim milk laid 1944 eggs, as compared with 1902 eggs laid by the twenty-two hens fed mash wet with water.
 In the first period of six weeks, forty-six hens fed the skim milk ration laid 502 eggs in thirty-seven days, as compared with 432 eggs laid by a similar lot fed no skim milk. In the second period the rations were reversed. The chickens fed skim milk laid 1230 eggs in fifty-six days, as compared with 978 in the case of the lot fed no skim milk.

AROUND GARDEN CHURCH.

Malmesbury a Region Rich in Historic Interest and Picturesque Ruins.

No account of Garden Church and manor, and the Washington traditions which enrich them, would be complete that did not make mention of the beautiful region, rich in historic interest and in picturesque ruins, which lies about Malmesbury. The abbey there has associations which would make it even if it were not in its glacial decay a monument of bygone beauty, a structure of fine and artistic interest, and the region is one rich in memorials of earlier English history. To Malmesbury belongs the honor of being the birthplace of King Alfred the Great. It was here that he was born, and it was here that he died. It was here that he was buried, and it was here that he was crowned. It was here that he was crowned King of the West Saxons, and it was here that he was crowned King of the Anglo-Saxons. It was here that he was crowned King of the Anglo-Saxons, and it was here that he was crowned King of the Anglo-Saxons.

And it is worth while. Malmesbury Abbey dates back to the twelfth century and long before that picturesque structure was completed a monastery had existed in Malmesbury, and William of Malmesbury, a monk and man of letters, had written in Latin a historical work which, next to the "Saxons Chronicle," is by many scholars considered the most valuable authority for Anglo-Saxon times. Here, in a portion of the old Abbey, restored and adapted to the uses of a modern parish church, is shown the tomb and recumbent effigy of King Athelstan; and in the neighboring street stands an old market cross of beautiful design and in admirable preservation. Beyond this, the road takes a turn, and the traveler comes in sight of the "Kings Arms."

It is here that the visitor to Garden Church may wisely tarry. He will find an English inn which has preserved every best tradition of an institution now rapidly vanishing from the face of the earth and in its landward and handily a host and hostess whom it will always be a joy to remember. From Bishop Potter's "The Graves of Three Washingtons" in the Vestry.

Being raised in a community superstitious in the extreme, Lincoln believed in supernatural portents all his life. Friday he considered fatal to every enterprise, and, as it turned out, well he might. He had many dreams which he considered forecasts of coming events, once sending a telegram to his wife to take away "Tad's" pistol, as he had had a bad dream about him. A good dream predicted the victory of a certain cause, and he related an ill one just assassination.

FOOT LOCKS.
 Senator Hiram says he will not try to be re-elected at the end of his present term, for he has a much better life in Washington at $5,000 a year. "Wood" Weaver, ex-Governor of Ohio, has been elected to the Senate.

EASTERN STORY

...the calendar that they had been married just six years— but the resolution through joy to neither. Five of the married abroad, or when in love at his side. She, curiously enough, had never ceased loving him, and had, by her charming personality, won a warm place in her parents' affections, with whom she lived.

A more irritably had separated them, when at first would be pride silenced her. But when days merged themselves into years without word or sign, her anguish increased, and she, in the wealth of love cemented itself in her bonnie little five-year-old son, his father had never seen, though acquainted with his existence.

There were times when she felt an indescribable longing for his presence— then, she would summon all her dignity to her aid and strive to overcome it, but our wills are not always under control, and feminine nature is still an insubstantial quantity.

Thus, she decided that sometimes, if any, must certainly emanate from her— if their embittered lives were ever to be welded into one happy whole.

So, like a thorough tactician, she formulated her plans and resolved to storm the citadel. After solicitation of Victoria was heightened by the encouraging reports of mutual friends who gave the best of advice, she proceeded to his loneliness, in the midst of social distractions more profound than his own.

...abundant love and the fashionable through promiscuity the evening and he— irretrievably. His bearing nonchalance to passing acquaintances from his point of vantage, allows a shade of annoyance to mar his crystal vision, and as he approaches suddenly halts in front of this habit of swiftness.

But annoyance quickly gives place to indignation. A huge French case, profusely perforated and laden with volubrious concerns by some person— presumably a footman— and a dainty bottle of French mink, whose instantaneous appearance mystified him more than the congregated operators.

His hands of mine being somewhat the novel girl— this, she surreptitiously approached, while conflicting thoughts sprang through his brain.

Upon which, in response to her persistent numerous perforations, he felt greatly relieved, and, under the impression that some sweetest friend had presented him with a new toy, he proceeded to untie the ribbon.

Apparently the eye parrot— dislodged or suspended, and which preposed the sweetest, in his momentary state of himself. This little man was arrayed in a middie suit, and the faintly gold-lettered tag had slipped back, revealing a glistening mass of sunny curls.

One lightly winched, hand held a sandily battered woolly toy.

Drowsily, sleepily, the big brown eyes opened.

Unabashed, and with perfect unconcern, he slung back from his sarré abode, and, like a legion wall learned, placed his dimpled hand

...then, of the impatient "tum-tum" became more clamorous, suddenly he stowed an involuntarily corpse, gathered him in his arms and paced the apartment with uncertain steps.

Half an hour before the wide window he perceived for the first time the waiting automobile.

The child instantly recognized it, too, for a figure graced the limbo.

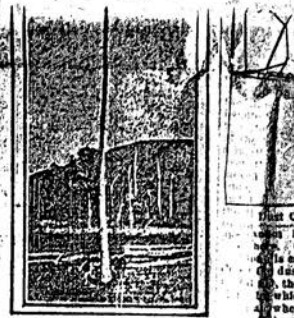

"Tum-tum-til-me," he pleaded eagerly. The man glanced sharply about—the maid had noticeably disappeared. Stifling his child closely to his breast, he showered burning kisses upon the wide-eyed, wondering little face. Then, hurriedly, as if fearing a revelation of feeling, he donned his outer apparel and softly departed, holding the little one close, his gleeful laughter echoing strangely through the lofty corridor and also— watching, waiting, catches a glimpse of two happy faces— murmurs tremulously, "Verily, a little child hath led him."—Huntsville Evening Times.

TIRED AND SICK YET MUST WORK

"Man may work from sun to sun but woman's work is never done."
 In order to keep the home neat and tidy, wash clothes and often suffer in silence, drifting along from day to day, knowing well that they ought to have help to overcome the pains and aches which daily make life a burden.

It is to these women that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, comes as a blessing. When the spirits are depressed, the head and back ache, there are dragging-down pains, nervousness, sleeplessness, and reluctance to get any farther, these are only symptoms which unless relieved, are soon followed by the worst forms of Female Complaints.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
 keeps the feminine organism in strong and healthy condition. It cures Indigestion, Liver action, displacements, and organic troubles. In preparing for child-birth and to carry women safely through the Change of Life it is unequalled.

Mrs. Augustus Lyon of East Earl, Pa., writes—Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—For a long time I suffered from female troubles and had all kinds of aches and pains in the lower part of back and sides, I could not sleep and had no appetite. Since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and following the advice which you gave me I feel like a new woman and I cannot praise your medicine too highly."

Mrs. Pinkham's Invitation to Women
 Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., that of her vast volume of experience she probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.

Good Movement Essential.
 An open, smooth, frictionless motion is just as essential as good lubrication to the success of any kind of a piece of uniform running machinery. One of the best lubricating oils that have proved disappointing in other cases even after having been used for a long standard time, because they were rough rubbed, ran behind or labored in their action. Some fifteen years ago an exceedingly well bred stallion was given a time record at Myrtle Park. His salt was so faulty that several harness men remarked that notwithstanding his choice breeding, they would not accept the gift of his services. This stallion was given exceptionally good opportunities, but though upwards of 20 years old, he is credited with only three "that" have made successful records.—Horse trader.

The milk passes through no tubes, goes directly from the cow into the bucket, the man or boy can attend to four machines and run milk from eight to ten cows in twenty minutes or about as many cows per hour as many as can be readily handled. The most exhaustive methods will be a great boon to dairy men, not merely on the ground of cost but also because they will add greatly to the purity of the milk.

Cows Held up the Farm.
 Notwithstanding what has been said about the value of the legumes, you should not be led to believe for a moment that all of the nitrogen which they contain is absorbed from the soil and bones is returned.

The farmer who has a good supply of legumes in the pasture of an ample supply of easily assimilable nitrogen from the atmosphere. The importance of the legumes on a well managed farm is practically a matter of nitrogen than as a soil improver and a source of grain for the farmer who has a good supply of legumes which have been raised in a satisfactory manner.

That wise old teacher, Prof. Stockbridge, has an opportunity to press upon the farmer the fact that the cow should be made to pay for the regular use of the milking machine, and the farmer who keeps cows should be made to pay for the machine that will give him the best results.

The Department of New England has a number of circulars that will be of great benefit to the farmer who is interested in the use of the milking machine. These circulars are available for free from the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Value of Skim milk for Laying Hens.
 The Department of Agriculture has received a report from the West Virginia Experiment Station of a test made to determine the value of skim milk as a feed for laying hens.

In the first test, which covered 122 days, twenty-two hens laid 1224 eggs, as compared with 996 eggs laid by the twenty-two hens fed mash.

In the first period of the second test, sixty hens fed the skim milk ration laid 622 eggs in thirty-seven days, as compared with 422 eggs laid by a similar lot fed on mash. In the second period the ration was reversed. The chickens fed skim milk laid 1220 eggs in thirty-six days, as compared with 976 in the case of the lot fed on mash. In both experiments more eggs were produced when skim milk was substituted for water for moistening the mash. Under the conditions prevailing in these experiments and with eggs selling at twenty or twenty-five cents per dozen, the skim milk feed for laying hens is worth about 10 cents per bushel.

One of the Important Duties of Physicians and the Well-Informed of the World

It is known as to the relative standing and reliability of the leading manufacturers of medicinal agents, as the most eminent physicians are the most careful as to the quality and perfect purity of remedies prescribed by them, and it is well known that physicians and the Well-Informed generally that the California Fig Syrup has attained to the high standing in scientific and commercial circles which has rendered to successful and reliable houses only, and, therefore, that the name of the Company has become a guarantee of the excellence of its remedy.

TRUTH AND QUALITY

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing, therefore, we wish to call the attention of all who would enjoy good health, with its blessings, to the fact that it involves the question of right living with all the term implies. With proper knowledge of what is best each hour of recreation, of enjoyment, of contemplation and of effort may be made to contribute to that end and the use of medicines dispensed with generally to great advantage, but as in many instances a simple, wholesome remedy may be invaluable if taken at the proper time, the California Fig Syrup Co. feels that it is alike important to present truthfully the subject and to supply the one perfect laxative remedy which has won the approval of physicians and the world-wide acceptance of the Well-Informed because of the excellence of the combination, known to all, and the original method of manufacture, which is known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent of family laxatives, and as its pure laxative principle, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well-Informed of the world to be the best of natural laxatives, we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the name of California Fig Syrup. The California Fig Syrup Co. has the honor to announce that the Elixir of Senna is the one laxative remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. and the name heretofore known by the name—Syrup of Figs—which has given satisfaction to millions. The genuine is for sale by all leading druggists throughout the United States in original packages of one size only, the regular price of which is fifty cents per bottle.

Every bottle is sold under the general guarantee of the Company, filed with the Secretary of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., that the remedy is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906.

Never let pig or any other animal shift for themselves while you are, and think you can make it for such a moment at the end.

Make the best use of your strength for every year that you live. Exercise, if you are not strong, will do you good.

Spending dusty hay's a good thing, but it is not good for the horse's health. Buy the best hay you can get, and mix it with the grain feed.

The United States has had the pleasure of spending $1,500,000 for the maintenance of the Panama Canal, and the question now arises when will the title also be returned to the amount?

Candidates Robert Eric Smith, Dr. Frank L. Adams and James B. Stevens are gaining ground by winning crowd votes and show friends and party. One is as dangerous as the other in a party.

April 1st is the anniversary of the death of John C. Calhoun, of South Carolina, as guests of honor.

Governor Deane, of Illinois, paid a visit to Mr. Roosevelt at the White House, recently, and the ubiquitous special correspondents from Washington sent out stories that he was there to boom Taft for President. The president denies it emphatically, however. What has Mr. Roosevelt to do with the boom, anyway?

The 125th anniversary of John C. Calhoun was celebrated in New York on March 18th at a banquet, and the guests of honor were his three grandchildren, John C. Calhoun and Patrick Calhoun, of New York, and Miss Margaret Calhoun, of Atlanta. Among the speakers were Governor Ansel, of South Carolina, and President Woodrow Wilson, of Princeton.

Dr. Shirley Bragg, the State jail and Colton Mill Inspector, has stated that he will give no warning of his coming, but will drop down unexpectedly on the various jails and mills. Our authorities and superintendents had better look after their Spring cleaning, as they have their own party with a moral growth and burning and toward dust cloth.

125th anniversary celebrated by South Carolinians in New York.

How He Was Valued in 1833.

John Caldwell Calhoun, of South Carolina, Statesman and Nullifier, has been admirably honored in New York on March 18th, by a banquet in honor of his 125th anniversary. The great South Carolinian's birthday was celebrated in New York on March 18th, by a banquet in honor of his 125th anniversary.

The celebration of Mr. Calhoun's birthday anniversary will reveal to the world the measure adopted by the great Statesman and his aggressive position as a Nullifier. His doctrine of nullification, the right of each State to withdraw from the Union, was a political position, joining the Whigs and the free traders, who brought bitter opposition to him.

John C. Calhoun, of South Carolina, who issued a counter-proclamation to the President in which he expressed a determination to maintain the laws of the State, and a counter-proclamation called upon the people to resist any attempt to enforce the tariff. This brought forth a message to Congress from the President to suppress the spirit of insubordination and sustain the laws of the United States. The aspect was very threatening for a while, but moderate counsel prevailed. Henry Clay's "Compromise Tariff" bill was enacted March 1838, and South Carolina's secession assembly repealed the Nullifying Ordinance on March 11th, 1838.

This political position inspired some Huntsville wit to write the following clever parody:

 You are upon the Union bent John C.

AN Ordinance Creating a Board of Education for the City of Huntsville and Defining its Powers.

Section 1. Be it ordained by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Huntsville, that there be created a Board of Education for the city of Huntsville, to be known as the Board of Education, which shall have full power to fill any vacancies in its membership which shall occur from any cause.

Section 2. Be it further ordained that the Board of Education shall consist of three members, to be chosen by the City of Huntsville during the year 1897 and each year thereafter, to take and furnish to the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Huntsville, a report showing how much money was received from the State of Alabama, and the City of Huntsville during the preceding year, and how the same was expended, and shall also in its said report make an estimate of the amount of money which will be required from the State of Alabama for the next scholastic year, and the amount which will be necessary for the proper conduct of the Public Schools during the next scholastic year.

Section 3. Be it further ordained that upon the report of the Board of Education, the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Huntsville shall appropriate and place at the disposal of said Board of Education...

Nine persons, eight of them school children, were instantly killed, and many others injured at Durango, Mex., by the collapse of the roof of the public school building while the rooms were crowded with pupils. The dead included one of the teachers and eight members of her class.

Scoria were buried under the wreckage and debris, and there is additional death, as many of the victims are dangerously hurt.

The teacher's body was buried beneath a heavy raft and it was evident death was instantaneous. Dr Shirley Bragg, the State jail and Cotton Mill Inspector, has stated that he will give no warning of his coming, but will drop down unexpectedly on the various jails and mills. Our authorities and superintendents had better look after their Spring cleaning at once—have their and burying and and don't cloth about the jail.

THE DEMOCRAT has no old scores to settle in this municipal election, has engendered no spirit of retaliation, nourished no animosity, and has endeavored to maintain a dignified position, declining to enter into personal attacks on Democrats by insinuations and unjust accusations. We have never indulged in personal attacks on Democrats in any campaign the have been urged to do so frequently, the insinuations of The Mercury to the contrary, notwithstanding. We defy the editor to produce his evidence.

With a view to the purchase of the Francis Scott Key mansion in this city, the home of the author of "The Star Spangled Banner," the Francis Scott Key Memorial association issued an appeal for the necessary $5,000.

The home of the author of the National anthem is in a sad state of neglect, and covered with various signs and advertisements. Membership in the association is open to any American upon payment of $1 annual dues. Application for membership or contributions may be sent to any member of the association or to the treasurer, W D Hoover of the National Savings and Trust company.

The deal issued, shows 13,200,077 bales of cotton, including round bales and half bales, including linters have been ginned. The number of active ginners this year is 28,702.

The 1906 crop is compared with 10,726,702 for 1905, and 18,907,310 for 1904.

The average gross weight of the bale for 1906 is 610.7 pounds and the crop, expressed in 600-pound bales is 13,670,295. The items entering the total for one crop of 1906 are 13,660,927 square bales; 206,795 round bales; 57,352 sea island bales, 321,100 lighters. The quantity of cotton estimated by ginners are delinters as remaining to be ginned and including in the report of 1906, is 155,704 bales.

This political position inspired some Huntsville wit to write the following clever parody:

JOHN CALHOUN MY JOE JOHN.

Written for THE DEMOCRAT, and published in the issue of April 23, 1903. John C Calhoun my Joe John, I wonder what you mean. That at old Henry's, you do vent your feelings and spleen, 'Tis in his your party, with yourself in morals grown so low. You are upon "Disunion bent" John C Calhoun my Joe?

John C Calhoun my Joe John, when we were first acquaint, The wretched of the day, John, supposed you were a saint, You stood the champion for the war with Malison, you know, But now you beat the "Hartford Crew," John C Calhoun my Joe John C Calhoun, my Joe John, how happy we should be If you, and Clay, and Webster, John, would let us still be free, To rear the tree of liberty our fathers blood did flow, But you would now destroy the fruit, John C Calhoun my Joe.

John C Calhoun my Joe John, our fathers stood in arms, To give the tree of Union strength to shelter us in storms, But you and Hayes would grub it up and lay the proud tree low To plant State saplings in its stead, John C Calhoun my Joe.

When nullifying first began, you told us all John C, You meant not harm, you meant not war, for it would peaceful be, How you belied your promise John, let all your measures show, And jeopardized our liberty, John C Calhoun my Joe.

John C Calhoun my Joe John, when England heard from far, That you were nullifying John, she shouted loud and clear, "The Union cannot last," she said, "I always told them so!" But we will show her better still, John C Calhoun, my Joe.

John C Calhoun my Joe John, the second seat you had, At first you acted well, John, but lately very bad, You could not be contented with, To have a seat the first time, But now you want the second seat.

John C Calhoun my Joe John, both you and Henry Clay, Ate like the boy that had the goose the golden egg did lay You both were gress men in the land but office came too slow Your reckless haste has damned you both, John C Calhoun my Joe!

Dr Shirley Bragg, recently appointed jail and cotton mill inspector, will begin work in a few days. He has been under the weather for some days but is about again, and will accept a regular schedule laid out. He will not announce the place he will visit however, preferring to drop in unexpectedly and find how things are carried on in the ordinary run of business.—Montgomery Journal.

Robert H Green, who for a number of years has been chief clerk of the supreme court was appointed an additional secretary to the supreme court by the justices, this office having been created by the present legislature.

Mr Greene will serve with Leon McCord, the present secretary. Mr Greene is a man of considerable ability and is competent to fill the high office. He is a young man well known and respected in the community.—Mont. Journal.

CHURCH TIPS BARRED.

"The London Times" tells us no hymn less than 37 is sung at the English church at Monte Carlo. A member of the congregation once used the hymn sung at a morning service, No. 32 as a text, and left the church to put the maximum on 32. It turned out Gossip about his "manipulation" led a number of persons the following Sunday to play the number of the last hymn. Again he won. The next Sunday the church could not accommodate the crush of worshippers, but their intent was frustrated, as the highest number on the little table 36, and 37 is the lowest number ever given out at the church.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs. A. M. Overton and little son, Elmer, spent Sunday in Gayles.

Dr. J. L. Darwin was in town on Monday.

Miss Etta Matthews has gone to Toronto, Canada.

Mrs. Eliza Fearn, is visiting her daughter Mrs. M. B. Murray.

Mrs. Will S. Russell was in the city on Friday.

Mrs. J. B. Laughlin will return to Huntsville next week and take a room at McGee Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Reed will move to their farm next week to remain until fall.

Dr. Wm. B. Halliburton, U. S. A., has been ordered to the Philippine Islands, and will sail April 6th.

Mrs. James H. Landman, Jr., is making arrangements to move to Birmingham, to be nearer the territory of her husband's business.

Rev. Francis Tappay returned Thursday from Stafford Springs, where he was summoned by the death of Rev. A. D. Loe.

Mrs. Baker L. Roberts and son, Mr. Richard Roberts arrived in the city of Huntsville last night (Tuesday) on the train, en route to California.

At her residence in this city, on Thursday, March 21, 1907, Mrs. Virginia Ann Shepherd, widow of the late Mr. S. D. Cabanis, died, died after months of weary suffering.

The deceased was born in Leesburg, Va., on October 1, 1824, and was the eldest child of Katherine Eversole and Levan Wilcox Shepherd. Her parents moved to Huntsville in December, 1828, and for more than four score years she resided in this city, respected by all, and tenderly loved by those who knew her best. She was educated at the Huntsville Female Seminary under Misses Nancy and Lydia Swift, and was always a student, with a remarkable memory and a great fund of information gleaned from research and practical observation. Most quiet and retiring in her nature, she shrank from the public, but in her home she shone a jewel indeed, beyond compare. Her home was the setting for this jewel, from which radiated faith, hope, charity, the greatest of Christian virtues. She was a communicant of the Church of the Nativity, and lived a noble and Christian's faith. Ever generous

PAISM SUNDAY.

Fassion-Tide—Holy Week—What They Commemorate.

The fifth Sunday in Lent, which is the second Sunday before Easter is designated by Mother Church as Passion Sunday, because on that day our Saviour began the public prediction of his sufferings and glorious crucifixion, and the two weeks preceding Easter in the western churches are commemorated by the faithful as the Passion-Tide, or Passion Week, and Death, Palm Sunday, the sixth Sunday in Lent commemorates the entry of our Saviour in Jerusalem, when the people took branches from palm trees and went forth to meet Him and cried: "Hosanna: Blessed is the King of Israel that cometh in the name of the Lord."

"Hosanna to the son of David." It is the first day of Holy Week and the Sunday before Easter.

Monday and Tuesday of this week witnessed the final disputations with the Jews; Wednesday is the "beginning of the Lord's Passion"; Thursday is known as Maundy Thursday, a corruption of "Dies Mandati" Day of Command. On that day Christ instituted the Holy Communion, viz: "Do this in remembrance of me;" with the command "that you love one another as I have loved you." The Holy Eucharist, (Eucharist is a Greek word meaning giving thanks) is of special significance on this day, and the ecclesiastical color is violet. Though often incorrectly called Holy Thursday, this day is known in the church as Maundy Thursday, and Holy Thursday has been given to Ascension day, which is a feast celebrated in the church forty days after Easter.

An old rhyme tells of the Passion of Our Lord in the ancient Seven Canonical Hours or worship, of the Nocturns and Mattins, divided into Lauds, Prime, Tierce, Sext, None and Vespers with Compline:

"At Mattins bound at Prime reviled
 Condemned to death at Tierce"

SUNDAY SCHOOL MEET
APRIL 9-11.

The twenty-fourth annual convention of the Alabama Sunday School Association will be held in the city of Birmingham Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, April 9th, 10th, and 11th next, on the basis of representation as follows: All officers of the State Association, five delegates at large from county, a 1 delegate from each group, the superintendent and two other delegates from each Sunday school.

The Prophets of the Old Testament

1. What Prophets did the Lord command to tell David to build me a house for me to dwell in?
2. What prophet was not by the side of the Lord's throne?
3. What prophet exhorted us to seek God?
4. Whose son was he?
5. What effect did it have upon Aza?
6. In what book is this told?
7. Who appointed him?
8. To what King was he sent to prophesy?
9. How old was Aza when he began to prophesy?

Mr. B. F. Lawler died Saturday at his home near Brownsboro, aged 74 years, and was buried Monday.

 On Thursday night of last week, Huntsville's Music loving citizens were out in full force to enjoy a delightful concert given for the benefit of Virginia Hall, by the MacCormick orchestra. The orchestra is composed of three as gifted, cultivated musicians as ever graced the professional stage: Prof Karl Ondrecek, violinist; Prof E T Mingles, violinist; and Miss Mulhrien, pianist. The following classic program was rendered by these artists most brilliantly:

- Excerpts from Opera: Barber of Seville ..... Hosni Dancla Trio
 Concerto ..... Bruch Violin
 Violinello with piano ..... Kudelak Trio
 (a) Cavalleria ..... Golsnerian
 (b) Bonanca ..... E Tiedje Mingles
 (c) Arlequin ..... Popper Cello
 (a) Serenade ..... Muszowski
 (b) En Sordana ..... Teltman Trio
 (1) La Toupe ..... Lasehietzky
 (b) Rose Song ..... E Tiedje Mingles
 (c) Erl Konig ..... Schubert-Liszt Piano
 Selections from Aida ..... Verdi Trio.

Holy Thursday has been given to Ascension day, which is a feast celebrated in the church forty days after Easter.

An old rhyme tells of the Passion of Our Lord in the ancient Seven Canonical Hours or worship, of the Nocturns and Matins, divided into Lauds, Prime, Tierce, Sext, Nonce and Vespers with Compline:

Our Mother bound at Prime reviled
 Condemned to death at Tierce,
 Nailed to the Cross at Sexts, at Nonce
 His blessed side they pierced.
 They take him down at Vesper-tide,
 In grave at Compline lay:
 Who thenceforth bids His Church observe
 "The Sevenfold hours away."

Good Friday commemorates the Holy Passion and Death of Our Blessed Saviour on the Cross, and is consecrated by the seven words on Cross Service, which is the three hours service, from 12 to 3 p. m. by the Mother Church with great solemnity, while our Lord's agony on the Cross is told by special prayers, hymns, addresses, and the ecclesiastical hangings of black tell the mourning of the Christian heart for the suffering of the crucified Saviour.

Saturday of Holy Week is Easter Even, and on this day are we reminded of the "Descent of our Lord's soul into Hell while he lay in the grave." Solemn and impressive indeed is this service when in meditation we realize that:

"Resting from his work today,
 In the tomb the Saviour lay,"
 and we are humbly thankful for His sacrificial saving grace that is vouchsafed us, then His Holy Passion, Death and Glorious Resurrection, and pray with fervor:

O Thou who once in anguish hung,
 Tears of repentance from sinners wrung—
 Sacrifice pure—Thy promise gave
 Eternal Life beyond the grave;
 Gently let our eyelids close
 In the arms of Thy narrow passioned
 Love—
 On bent knee we pray, O Lord!

The dark clouds that gather 'round,
 The crown of thorns Thy head did wound,
 Dispel the gloom that would pervade,
 Light of Light the darkness made.
 Hear our prayers, O Christ Divine!
 Give us sweet peace from Heaven of Thine.

Crowns with immortality
 Those whose faith alides in Thee!
 Amen.

How is This For a Guarantee

For over twelve years we have succeeded in collecting all the accounts that were thought up as dead. We found that we could guarantee a certain percentage of collections when our guaranteed system was put to work on them, so now we agree to collect for you the amount of our bill before we ask a penny commission on the bills we collect. After we have collected five times our cost, we then charge only 10% per cent on every dollar we collect. Tell us where you are and you will give you the names and addresses of people you know, from whom we have collected accounts that have given up.
