Sir
When I bought the Smith place from you I did not expect to have to trouble any of my friends to go my security - I thought my own note and a lien on the place would be ample security for the payment on said land.
Mr Ward demands of me 3 notes with 2 securities - I might be able to get them & I might not - Men do not like such things much & I can not blame them - I have said that I would never go an an other mans note - I would much prefer if you ~~would~~ have no objection to give you my own notes & you hold the land also for the purchase money — If nothing happens to me & the crops I will most certainly be able to make my first payment the 1st of January until the notes are all paid, Write me what you will do in the matter —

Or if you prefer I will

Since the receipt of your letter of 7th Inst. I observed that the Appletons have recently published a translation of a new edition of Montesquieu's work on the Rise & Fall of the Roman Republic. Not having had an opportunity of reading that work of Montesquieu I have sent for it. It is not improbable that your ancestor availed himself of that great Author's labors in presenting his view of the causes of the decadence of that Republic. I do not doubt but that a cheap edition of your great Ancestor's work, would be more generally read in America than that of the distinguished French author -
I am pained to observe from your letter that you seem to have already "despaired of the Republic" concluding with Tacitus as I suppose, that "It is more easy to praise than to establish a republican Government and if established it cannot be of long duration" Mr Adams thought that the chief defect in the constitution of the United States, was the want of a distinct line of demarcation, between the three the signatures to both letters, and the body of the last letter?

As requested I have looked at the two letters, the letter of date May 28th 1872 is in the handwriting of Robert Fearn, and the signature thereto, as to the one dated March 14th 1872, the signature is in the handwriting, of said Robert Fearn, but the body of said letter is not.

What anything else you know of concerning the Complainant?

I attend to Mrs Rebecca F Bibb's business, and have in hand notes and mortgages for four or five thousand dollars. She has unexpectedly called on me to collect for immediate use three hundred dollars which I can't do without delay.

If you will lend her that amount she can make it safe by collateral deposit.

Let me hear from you the purpose of the movement so fully in print, that it is not worth while to repeat them. But let me beg of you to read the matter which I send herewith, and to consider whether this plan is not worth a systematic trial on a large scale. Why might not our Senators and members confer and then, if they approve, put the machinery at work in their several States? That was precisely what Jefferson, Gallatin, Madison, and your great Southern Republicans did from 1792 to 1800, with the result, which saved the country then from the very fate with which it is now threatened.

Certainly Mr Cabaniss' idea is a good one. A small book of 100

Start the Clubs, and they will buy and circulate that book, and vast quantities of other literature of the same quality! But if this gentleman will not write such a book I will do all in my power to secure it wide early days of the Republic - These associations, I presume, would serve a special purpose in the South, in heeding our people, sorely tempted, as they are, by the gigantic bribes which Federalism occasionally offers, to the traditions of their fathers, and democratic principles of the Southern School. But I have ex-
