Dear Ma

Your letter to Aunt Bet. & Willie was certainly the most welcome ever received.

After the 1st of July passed, naturally we looked for you home, as we had not heard of any change in your plans, but there is no need whatever of your coming home, we will be glad if you will stay just as long as you can. I was considerably put out when I found Pa had written that he was sick. I was well by the time you got the letter. Dr. Dement said my liver did not act, and gave me calomel & I am all right now.

Cousin Jennie thinks she will go home Monday, but I don't think she will. Sister will be here Tuesday, I am going to put her Mr. R. & baby in Brother's room. Miss Fannie D. says Brother can have a room over there, Aunt Bet will tend them in lounge.

I think it will be the best plan for the short while that Mr. Roberts will remain, because Pa wants to take a bath every morning, and I would have such a time taking clothes from one side the house to the other.

After Mr. R. goes back, Sister can come down stairs.

I have been thinking a good deal of the state of your wardrobe this hot weather. I hope you got yourself a green and white dress while in Baltimore but am afraid you did not. I don't see how you could get along very well, with nothing cooler than that new wooden dress.

I paid my duty visit at the seminary but have not paid any other for some time, it is so warm, but I am going out visiting some time next week.

I got Cousin Carry to speak to Margaret about nursing for sister but she seems to have got out the notion and is cooking for Mrs. Carter.

She got sick and Mr. Martin told her she did not want her any longer.

The red cow has a calf nearly 3 weeks old, I am going to begin using the milk, there is plenty of it, Mrs. Steele wants to get a quart every morning for Mrs. Collin's (Susie Tracy's) baby.

Don't come home till you want to come. Everything gets along smoothly, there is not much done but no body worries about it.

Bud has just come in from Aunt Sallie's and looking very well.

I your aff daughter
Fannie S. Cabaniss.
