I have never felt before; besides a degree of hopefulness and courage that was fast becoming a stranger to me. I went to the capital this morning feeling a new man, I met Spraggins Wense Garth Todd Harrison & Richardson.

I have actually been to a communion, a drum party, and a wedding.

I have never had as many interesting books to read as I have at Alvin's library. Mr Knowle's and Uncle John's.

I called on Miss Sue Elmore & her sister last night with Cousin Ellie and Miss Weaver. Miss Mary Elmore is younger than Miss Sue and much prettier although Miss Sue looks better than I ever saw her.

Miss Weaver has her horse and dear Mary, how and I took Aunt Mary some long pleasant drives I have a letter from Mark Adams asking me to pay him another visit in my way back.

As it is now I am too busy to make plans, at present.
Please excuse such a rambling letter. You will be written at an great haste.

Yours truly,

during the week, I hope she will find Sunday a real rest day. I am leading such an uneventful life that, I have nothing to write about. I go out very little & I much prefer sleeping and sleeping, and eating, and knowing that I am improving permanently, to chatting and trying to spread myself. I am at present content to know that I can spread myself, when an occasion that warrants it presents itself.

I received a long letter last Sunday from Ellie.
She tries to cover too much ground, in her letters, and in doing so reminds me of a hen that is sitting on too many eggs.

I received also a very pleasant letter from Tancred Betts, in which he spoke in high praise of the way in which Fannie was running the Court.
He also said that he had received quite a good letter from our old friend Thomas Cobbe, whom he feared they would be defeated before the next Democratic convention. There are two younger men running against him. I think I will write to them. He is the only politician in Alabama. I have an interest in. He has a son I understand in San Antonio, who is quite a prominent lawyer.

I find much to my surprise that plant & tree culture indigenous to the soil are much more delicate than I had thought.

I have kept them safe from being killed, on account of the memory of our cat at home.
Please say to [unclear] that I am my Mr. McIntosh and also two pair of pants [unclear] pair I mean.
I have almost stopped prognosticating as to war eventualities. Either way it will give the Democrats the next congress, and probably the next president. I think we are about to learn some facts about the affairs of our country that we have not known before. I think McKinley has uttered a great deal of important information from Congress. He now claims as the Houston Post says, that the fighting Department are even short of powder and that the projectiles have not reached their destinations along the coast.
This is a very windy Sunday. The wind coming from the south, and plenty of dust.
I would not be surprised to learn that Knowles Trouble will eventually kill him. He is a much older man than he looks, or passes for. I am not so surprised at any time to hear of Aunt Mary's death. She has no restraint over her appetite, and will some day eat too much and die suddenly. Give my love to Aunt Bett & Uncle Charles. Tell Sam I will visit her soon.
Yours affectionately
J. B. Cabaniss
