feebler and ill he looks.
The Doctor says he is suffering from enlargement and inflammation of the prostate gland which leads to the Bladder. He suffers a great deal and cannot ^{retain} his urine at all. The most dangerous part of his illness seems to be the severe rigors which come on once or twice within 24 hours, and last for more than an hour.
He is unconscious at the time and perfectly exhausted when they pass off. He then has fever though not a great deal. The Doctor comes several times a day and relieves his Bladder, but has to use Potaine generally, as the parts are so much swollen it makes it very painful.
Pain comes but a little,
and sleeps when he is free from pain, but Mamma says he suffers intensely.
He all felt so anxious.
Doctor Gaston says very little but thinks he is in a critical condition, so he told Sister Evie. Poor Mamma looks so nervous and unhappy we have not the heart to say much to her, but somehow shall bear the worst.
The Doctor was to make another examination this evening, so will write you again.
With love for all
Your aff. niece
