course in a speech made early after I came to the Senate on Haywards bill to demonetize greenbacks. I went to demand guaranteed plan, however, by requiring that a vote of a bill passed by 2/3 of each House to increase the volume of legal tender notes above $500,000,000 shall be given it unfettered power. 4/5th of each House pass the bill.
We spent to gain great strength with the Conservatives by the debate on these measures.
As matters stand every body feels that the country is in a perilous attitude.
Very truly yours

25. March 1884

Dear Mr. Cabaniss,

My son gives you the note inquired about on the foregoing pages.

You see that we are having much trouble to "trim ship" on several questions now being pressed, Some democrats are dazzled with the glitter of the 100,000,000. a year of surplus revenues, and forget the limits of their powers in their eagerness to handle it.

Congress was never so democratic in ~~name~~ ^{appearance}, and so undemocratic in principle as it is today, it is a fearful struggle for the faith handed down from the fathers.

Truly yours friend

The close correspondence of our opinions on all questions that involve the principles of our government has fortified me in some very trying emergencies, and I thank you for frequent references to high authority, and for the citations of historical facts, with which you have so kindly provided me.

I earnestly hope that your state of health may be speedily and permanently improved. Those of us who are inclined to consult the men that have added wisdom to experience in our affairs, begin to feel that positions of influence are being rapidly vacated, and that their successors are few.

I consider this as a perilous era in our federal relations. With grateful regards, very truly yours. Jno T. Morgan
