impressions. This I should lament, but at that time the case seemed to demand a thorough probing, and to no other than you & Dr.
I somewhat have come to feel that each of you were interested & good friends, and would do what was for the best.
The women to have lost that unnatural opposition in a great degree. Mr. Moore came at a time when it did not reach her domestic plane, which reflected in his desecration. The worthy young man, whom I feared she would favor, was reached himself & a rupture ensued, which may be permanent.

She was firm in refusing to see the young man, had said as strongly against the young physician.
I think he the favored one.
Of him I can not say he has acted with dignity or propriety, since he has been here, so I am told. He said she will tell him to go, and take of advice.
Nephew has come with him. I know you will hear her. I am satisfied the change is just what was needed for both of them. I hope Father will enter upon his whole duties & improve his bright mind, if put in the right channel. She will reflect credit on herself & family.

Neppie is very sensitive, has been told a great many unpleasant things that have been said of her. unjust remarks to. & for this reason I'm glad she is gone.
She has always been very dear to me, & there is nothing I would hesitate to do for her welfare & good. Feeling that what I have written to you will remain inviolate - with you & Dr. S. I remain Yrs.
With esteem,
Mary Anderson.
