which was of most-interest & yet most-essential to a complete education I measured my success (not by what I thought - for I had worked too hard in writing & striving to form an opinion) but by the manner in which the club members received it - when I read it to them - I was overwhelmed with applause - & the two whose opinions I valued most - told my friends it was the best paper ever read in the club - I write this to let you know if I have not written to you my time was well spent - for so I consider self-improvement - I just mean that is filling my mind & time to the exclusion of all else -

The card parties have given place to literary pursuits - (by the way I won the prize at the last card party) I am taking an two courses of lectures on each - once a week - I read up on each subject in advance & in this way feel I will ^{learn} more - Tell Uncle Charles not to forget to send me the two books he promised me - He all enjoyed his visit so much He was in his best trim for talking & looked splendidly - Rose Weaver came back to see us for a few days the last week, she & Ella invested in hats & dresses just alike - We won't be able to tell them apart- when they get- rigged out.

Bert & Miss Safford are still loving each other so hard they have little time for anything else.

Phil Stein is loving Mrs. Richardson (Minnie Reese) just a little bit more than himself now- They came down & took tea with us a few nights since & afforded amusement for the whole household- even Mama had to laugh at their foolishness- We have missed you more than I can say in fact- very few days you are a part of our conversation-

Give my best love to all & do please write soon- I will answer immediately

Yours Evelyn H. Fitzpatrick
