had made with the young Ladies any way. But perhaps you have found one that suits you better if you have, let me know & I will tell her I tell you Charlie she looked mighty pretty here in the store a few days ago. But Charlie I will quit wrighting about her but still I think that that is the most interesting point that I can wright to you about.

And last night Charlie I went to the dancing school to see the Chardian dance but did not take a hand in it myself. Dep: & two of your Sisters were there. I enjoyed it finely. Charlie Huntsville is the deidest place at the present time in the world there is no news & a very little amusement. every body is at hard work.

Doc got through with ^{his} fight very well after knocking two nigras down. Answer your ever thoughtfull friends letter immediately. In great haste excuse all mistakes. The pavement is full of horse manure & waiting on me to get it in.

Yours ever true friend
F. S. McCalley
