Church of Nativity (Episcopal) Outreach

Image 2 r04a10-12-000-0135 Contents Index About

Outreach committee members Dot Barr and Ruth Haymes serve as coordinators for Nativity participation in A.I.M., a program which provides volunteers to transport children to visit with their mothers who are incarcerated at Tutwiller. Nativity is responsible for the transportation of these children in May and November. Volunteers put in a full day driving the children to Tutwiller, waiting out the visit and then returning. Tom Lewallen and Helen Frazer have also participated in this program.

(2) the naked who need clothing and shelter,

Committee member Patsy Rentz also serves on the board of directors for Christmas Charities Year Round, one organization which provides clothing. Bill Giardini has been active with Downtown Rescue Mission. Bill also coordinates our role as back-up cold weather shelter for women and children. (There are two designated downtown churches which serve as overflow shelters in the event that the Downtown Rescue Mission and the Salvation Army become full during very cold weather. We house the women and children. This fact should probably not be publicized as these overflow locations are not known to the public. Overflow housing is coordinated through IMS in cooperation with the Downtown Rescue Mission and the Salvation Army.) Bill Giardini will also serve as project coordinator for Habitat once the building phase gets started.

Nativity has been a big supporter of LIFT (Living in Family Transition Housing) which provides transitional housing and social services for homeless or at risk families who are willing to enter a goal contract aimed at independence. Nativity members Pat Fague, Phil Dotts, Sherry Broyles, Andy Dozier and I have all served on the LIFT board. Pat Fague and I helped found the organization and I am a past board president. In the past, Nativity has provided funding to pay off a mortgage on one LIFT house and the JTO has chosen LIFT as one of its Alabama projects. Local artist and committee member Helen Vaughn contributed the original artwork for the 1992 LIFT Christmas cards.

You have a great deal of information about the Habitat project. Clay Sherrill has been the chairman of that committee and he can provide you with any other needed information. It will eventually involve most of the church in some form of volunteer service. Even our 6th and 7th graders have already gotten into that act.

(3) the sick,

Nativity Outreach financially supports Hospice of Huntsville, Huntsville Hospitality House, the Mental Health Association, the Alliance for the Mentally Ill, the Huntsville Pastoral Care program, and in 1993 will provide funding for immunizations through the Child Health Improvement Association. Nativity member Molly Jones works with the Mental Health Association and Nancy Cramer is former director of Hospice. I am not familiar with all the work in this category

Andrew hits Louisiana

God's people withstand

He never expected to be a hero and doesn't believe he is one. But to the people of New Iberia, Louisiana, Father John Moloney is just that, a hero.

Father John has been rector of the Church of the Epiphany, New Iberia, for more than six years. His focus has always been on lay ministry. His parish has distributed 200 sacks of groceries each week for a long time, and he has been active in the Diocese of Western Louisiana. Never was he the most visible leader in his community. Hurricane Andrew changed all of that.

The Moloney family rode out the storm in the parish rectory. "There were some real scary moments." There was damage to the rectory, but Father John hasn't had time to really check. He knows there is a giant tree on his roof. When the storm ended, however, his attention turned to his community. There it has remained.

When Father John was able to emerge from his house, he saw only chaos. The community was paralyzed. There was no electricity nor telephones. He began to act.

By the time Father John was able to reach Bishop Hargrove by telephone, the Presiding Bishop had already called from Geneva, Switzerland and the Presiding Bishop's Fund had transferred $25,000 to the bank account of the Diocese of Western Louisiana. Father John decided immediately that the money would be for humanitarian needs. The priorities would be food, shelter and medical care.

Things moved fast. A generator was procured and the Church of the Epiphany had the first electricity and telephone available. The American Red Cross unit was in inadequate space, without electricity or telephone. Father John moved them to the Church of the Epiphany. "Doc", a nurse from Nashville "just showed up" and has been coordinating medical services since. A make-shift hospital was set up in the parish hall and dozens of bedridden elderly people were moved in. There is a constant stream of patients and as many as 80 prescriptions for medicine are administered daily. Food distribution began from a warehouse space they acquired immediately.

I tell the story of Father John because it is really the story of a community. It is the story of Sonny, of "Doc", of Becky, of Jody and countless others who have turned their attention from themselves to the needs of others. When all of the pain, chaos and paralysis are gone, New Iberia will be the better because of them. There is a story, if not of heroes, certainly of heroics. Perhaps it is vanity, but we Episcopalians like to be proud of our church. Father John and Epiphany Church have given us that opportunity. Your fund is there for them and, thus, so are you. — reported by Bill Caradine.

Recovery has just begun. Your gifts are needed. Please send your donations to the Presiding Bishop's Fund and identify them for "Hurricane Andrew Relief."

A profile of chaos

In the wake of Hurricane Andrew, words and phrases from the Bible shape themselves into images. Words such as chaos and hell. I think about the longing in the human heart and mind for wholeness and I know why the sight of Homestead in Florida is so depressing. Nothing remains that is whole as God or humanity created it. No tree or limb, no telephone or electric pole, no taut wires, no homes without gaping holes or complete roofs remain. Chaos has taken over what was once a city of complete homes, of tree lined streets and lanes. Nothing remains that is beautiful. There are no interesting shapes to photograph. The force of the storm, with a width of 25 miles in its straight-line winds that gusted up to 175 mph, was awesome and the results are ugly.

And yet, and yet...
 Bishop Cal Schofield who visits the six affected congregations with pastoral care reports on the good things:

- On the Sunday following the storm, St. John's Church in Homestead, the most devastated community with an Episcopal parish, held a service with the propers for Easter -- resurrection in the dark, in the rain, with no lights, but the Light of the World
- Ascension Parish in Perrine held a service of Thanksgiving on the same Sunday.

Personal witness touches this reporter:

- Dr. Dabney Park, Operation Andrew Coordinator, adds to the wonder: "Not one person has said, 'Why did this have to happen to me?'"
- Other parishes from the diocese have sent hospitality teams to help with clean-up, with food distribution, with loving prayers.
- Episcopal parishes from South Carolina have been there from the beginning with the most valuable service of all -- advice and organizational help garnered from their own experience with Hugo.
- High school students from Benjamin School in West Palm Beach pitched in to help clean up St. John's School so that children in K-8 can start school and regain order in their lives.

and healing

- Christ Church, Coconut Grove, the warehouse and distribution center for all the affected areas, is buzzing with activity, black and white Episcopalians working together.
- A young soldier from Ft. Bragg helping at Ascension tells this reporter that he is an Episcopalian and asks for the name of a church in Fayetteville.
- A sign outside a devastated home shows the unvanquished spirit: "Customized by Andrew," it says.

HOW YOU CAN HELP A priest and two soldiers repair Ascension's roof

The Rev. Terry Harris rector of St. John's, Homestead, looks like a former football player with a voice to match. The jokes escape from his lips in a manner that shows it will take more than Andrew to get him down. "You want to know what we need?" he booms when told that the Presiding Bishop's Fund will send bulletin inserts to all the congregations: "We need the 3 M's: Money, Mobile homes (small recreational vehicles that include bathroom and kitchen facilities) and Manpower/Womanpower." They also are desperate for: Generators ($650 will buy one locally) and Roofing materials ($500 will provide wood and tar paper for a small house).

Member Congregation Network

Twenty five years of successful operation has created strong bonds and a robust spirit of cooperation among the IMS member congregations. Expanding the development of these bonds, with limited staff and volunteer resources of the Bridging Ministry, is a great challenge. Last year cluster groups were organized and through their activities more bridges of understanding and cooperation are being built.

Outreach

The outer rim of our symbol represents the outreach of the entire membership. It is comprehensive and is characterized by the elements of service, education, and action (SEA). Proper use of each of these elements ensures that the root causes of social service needs are understood and the causes alleviated.

The SEA elements are defined more fully on subsequent pages.

Unison

WHATSOEVER YOU DO 10, 10, 11 with Refrain
Willard F. Jabusch, b. 1930
Harm. by Robert L. Brautson, b. 1942

What-so - ev - er you do to the least of my broth - ers/ that you do un - to me.
SIS - TERS.

1. When I was hun - gry, you gave me to eat;
2. When I was home - less, you o - pened your door;
3. When I was Ne - gro, or Chi - nese, or white;
4. When I was a - ged, you both - ered to smile;
5. When I was laughed at, you stood by my side;

1. When I was thirst - y, you gave me to drink.
2. When I was na - ked, you gave me your coat.
3. Mocked and in - sult - ed, you car - ried my cross.
4. When I was rest - less, you lis - tened and cared.
5. When I was hap - py, you shared in my joy.

Now en - ter in - to the home of my Fa - ther.
