Hts	s Hist Comptony O opocal McChing St. 1984
32	opocal meeting St. 1904
Pg. 30:	The city has always had the power to condemn that land by the right of eminent domain. They still would have that polwer if a corporation rank it and went defunct. I just don't feel you should create a situation that ultimately might not be the best for the city and for the citizens of the town.
Pg. 34:	The property is no suitable for residential because three sides of it are already a cemetery, and the rest of the land was sold with the idea that it would be Maple Hill Cemetery.
Pg. 35:	As far as I know, the only way people can get lots in Maple Hill Cemetery is to buy them from somebody else. I do know of people who would like to be buried in Maple Hill Cemetery when they die.
Pg. 36:	That, to me, is one of the reasons that these people want to make money on it, because they know that people want the prestige of being buried in Maple Hill Cemetery and as such they are capitalizing on it.
Pg. 37:	I indicated that right here was the White residence, and they took it down and sold it, one the the descendants specifically asked for and got that his grave site be on the site of the parlor where he got married. I'm talking about heritage, about tradition, about what is important to people. What else would you expect the stones to be in a modern era? You would expect them to be in accord with what is available and what their pocketbooks can afford. But it doesn't say that those people aren't just as important that are buried historically.
Pg. 38:	It is a current burial cemetery.
Pg. 40:	The settlement has a provision in it that the 7.7 acres will be developed in the same character as Maple Hill Cemetery, but I am skeptical about whether that will or will not occur.
Pg. 41:	The only way I believe that this property would be developed in a character consistent with Maple Hill would be if the City did it. There is no other way I can feel confident about it. If the Court in this case were to order that this property be developed in a manner consistent with Maple Hill and set forth guidelines as to how that is to be done, it would not satisfy my fears about the private development of this property because you cannot detatch the money element from it.

Pg. 42:	I object to people making an excess amount of money off of grave sites.
Pg. 44:	The governors that I have talked about are buried in the northwest corner of the cemetery, but this is not to say that people that are not there are not equally as important.
Pg. 45:	The same is true with the Revolutionary War figures and the Civil War figures, they are buried up in the northernmost portion of the cemetery.
Pg. 51:	I have reason to believe that Mr. McCown and Mr. Ragland would develop the cemetery in a way inconsistent with Maple Hill or to destroy the character of Maple Hill because I doubt the motivations, in terms of the money-making
Pg. 53:	when you get right down to it, I can't trust Mr. McCown and Mr. Ragland to preserve the character of the cemetery because they may not be financially able to.
