A THREE STAR BULL*—CLASSIFIED VERY GOOD

Grand Champion Bull, Springfield, Ohio, Jersey Show, 1939
Second Prize Senior Yearling Bull, Ohio State Fair, 1939 (16 shown)
Second Prize 2 Year Old Bull, Alabama State Fair, 1940

His sire, Valiant Aim P. S. 7133, H. C., imported by B. H. Bull & Son, Brampton, Ontario, and now heading the herd of Thomas Jersey Farms in Michigan. His dam, Wonderful Standard Lady No. 1144154, Classified Good Plus, with a 305-day Register of Merit record of 860 pounds fat from 10,400 pounds milk. She is a daughter of Wonderful Standard, a Silver Medal sire with 68 tested daughters. His son, Aim Standard Design won first prize at Ohio State Fair in 1940 in competition with 27 young bulls. One daughter, Valiant Aim Joyce Poppy, won first prize at Tennessee State Fair, Nashville, Tennessee; First and Junior Champion, Alabama State Fair, and fourth prize at the National Dairy Show in 1941, Memphis, Tennessee. Another daughter, Valiant Aim Volunteeress, won fourth prize at Tennessee State Fair, third prize at the Alabama State Fair, and ninth prize at the National Dairy Show, Memphis, Tennessee, 1941.

Owing to labor conditions for the past two years we have not been able to test daughters of Valiant Aim Standard, but are now entering them on test as they come in and hope to prove him within another year.

In these experiments were represented several cattle clubs and associations which concern themselves mainly with blooded grades of stock, the Exposition management furnishing quarters and feed, and retaining the produce of the model dairy.

For the cheese test between Jerseys, Guernseys, and short-horns, twenty-five cows were selected to represent each of these breeds, the American Jersey cattle club of New York gathering its choicest specimens from no less than bottles and in concentrated form, with the apparatus by which they exclude the air and expel gases, thus effectually destroying the germs of disease. Here for the first time this invention has been publicly exhibited in the United States, where, as is asserted, it would largely aid in the development of dairy industries, since by its use milk can be kept in good condition and in unlimited quantity, ready to be forwarded from remote regions to the great centres of consumption. Iowa, Michigan, New York, and Wisconsin have all a considerable

The series of experiments and tests conducted during the term of the Exposition were watched by dairymen from every part of the world. In the first ten days of May were illustrated the best methods of handling milk and cream, followed by tests of Jerseys, Guernseys, and short-horns as to the comparative value of breeds for the production of cheese, which is manufactured by machinery in the model dairy. In the closing days of May the apparatus for cheese making was replaced by such as is used for

Some Huntsville locals imagined that Lily Flagg died shortly after being purchased by Hood.¹³⁹ In reality, she lived a good many years, long enough to drop several calves like Signella M. and Jennie Fordyce, both of which achieved impressive butter records.¹⁴⁰ One man who happened to see her at Hood Farm described Lily Flagg as follows:

This cow has proved herself to be one of the greatest dairy Cows living, and at the same time she captivates the eye by Her wonderful beauty of form. She has the general wedge Shape of body, the round barrel, the loose, soft skin and Golden color, the clean-cut head and waxy horns, and, Above all, perhaps a wonderful development of udder— Not so remarkable in size as it is in splendid shape, Particularly in the forepart of the udder, in distinction To the pinched appearance so often seen in that part.

Much as she had been admired in Huntsville, it seems Lily Flagg continued to turn heads. Although it is not known how long she lived, myriad sources mention her children and grandchildren. Inevitably, Lily Flagg died. However, in Huntsville, her memory remained vibrant.

Numerous erroneous claims have been made about Lily Flagg, but three stand out more than the others. One myth revolves around Moore's gala being a welcome home party for Lily Flagg who returned to Huntsville from Chicago as a first prize winner.

Matthews' daughter Lucile tried to rebut it with her recollection: "Lily Flagg . . . went to Chicago, but never returned."¹⁴² Another myth holds that at Moore's party, Lily Flagg's stall was in the house. For example, in one article, an author wrote, "Lily Flagg, who stood contentedly on a silver platform under a flowered mantel in one of the twin parlors. Not a guest was shocked as the choice of location for the honored guest."¹⁴³ One of Moore's
