①

On behalf of the officers, executive committee and the 1650 members of the Alabama Historical Association I wish to express our appreciation to this congregation for its efforts in preserving and marking this church as a significant historic symbol of this community's past, present and future.

The marker which you place here today is the most recent of soon ones like it. For the past sixteen years our association has been actively engaged in aiding local groups as they sought to identify ^{and mark} historic sites of state and national significance.

The sequenced history of this church which you have so generously provided us with today is a further link which ties you to all those dedicated to the transmission of a knowledge of the past to present and future generations.

I am sure that Miss Helen Petty, your church historian for many years, would be pleased to know that this volume has at last been completed.

Such a service as this helps us all to focus our attention on who we are and what we represent.

certainly each of us should have many ties with the past for not one of us should feel that he is floating in to all that has happened to our forebears and those whose places we now occupy. As Louis C. Jones so aptly pointed out in his plea for the preservation of historic sites, "So far a part of the progression of mankind is to enter into the full citizenship of the race of men." Within the framework of the home itself, there needs to be hand-me-downs from yesterday-used their resources over and beyond the call of duty to build churches such as this one, schools, theaters, libraries, lecture halls and parks. (3) They established community government to protect life, and property and to render services which individuals could not finance. (4) In short, they worked to provide a well-rounded community life.

In a country where few

few of us live in a town where we were born, there is an ever greater need to create a sense of identity and belonging for those who come from elsewhere.
If we have to make a conscious effort to learn what others have received as a birthright, then it is worth the time it takes to ^{do so.} There is much ^{historical} symbolism in our community today which can serve to increase our and suffered that Hartsville might continue as a dynamic community.

A study of the people's who have ^{or do wish} ~~worked~~ in this church would reveal a host of such individuals who helped build and maintain this community.

We need to be ever mindful of our heritage and pass it on to our children so that they will understand that if the
