323 Hill Ave., Guntersville

8. Condition: Fair to poor

9. Present Use: None - often vacant

10. Areas of Significance: One of two houses left standing after 1865 when Guntersville was skidded and burned by the Federal -

11. Architectural Description: This house has been added to and remodelled a number of times. It was originally a simple rectangular building (two stories) chimney at each end and small steep (over) front door. A room had been added in front and porch adjoining on the side. Of frame construction, it has deteriorated during the years. Its chief significance is its survival of the town-landment.

12. Sketches of structure or site when applicable:
