Dear Charlie:

Thanks, Charlie, for your letter of September 27, in which you indicate that you and Nell will be in Knoxville for the Tennessee-Georgia Tech game, as our guests. Old Bob Bell--the old rascal--has already accepted for himself and Carolyn. In due course of time Eva will conform to the social amenities and write your respective wives--making the invitation official. She is looking forward to your visit with as much pleasure as I am.

The way Auburn manhandled Tennessee Saturday was a sight to behold. Auburn should have won this game by at least three touchdowns. I sat through a two hour rain and saw it all and marvelled at the size, the speed and the workmanlike manner in which the Auburn team went about its task in simply overpowering and overwhelming a pretty good Tennessee team. Tennessee will bounce back and give a good account of itself the rest of the season and will put on a great show for us when they meet Georgia Tech.

The four of you are going to stay at our house, we are going to let down our hair and I am going to turn you and Bob loose on your story telling.

I am going to have a Justice of the Peace friend of mine there. He tries many cases. Not long ago a constable--the fee grabbing kind--was cruising through the country and saw a chicken coop on fire. He ran up to the house and arrested the young man who was present and took him before this Justice of the Peace. Upon their arrival, the Justice of the Peace said, "Constable, what's he charged with?" The constable replied that he was charged with arson. "Arson, arson, arson, there is too much of this arson going on in this community--I will just fipe him $100 and make him marry the girl."

Well, Charlie, I will never forget you, Bob, Lt. Cole, sweet Mrs. Simmons (I still have designs on her) and it is going to be good to be together again.

My best to you, Nell and the little Zimmers always.

Sincerely,

Ray H. Jenkins

Bob, our mutual friend, Kenneth Nugent, called me Saturday night after the game. I had to meet some clients uptown after the game and Eva talked to him, telling him I would be in later, but I don't believe he ever called back--certainly not while I was there. In the meantime, Eva had to go and baby sit with the grandchildren, and if he did call back I missed him altogether.

Tell Kenneth I appreciated his call and am awfully sorry to have missed him. I remember with delight the nice party he and his little wife gave us while I was in Huntsville.

Kiss sweet Carolyn for me!
