Dear Buster:

The enclosed is self-explanatory. I wish you'd check this matter through for me--discreetly, as is your talent--so that I can answer Don Weaver, our editor in Columbus.

Personally, I find it interesting. I seem to recall rumors during the trial that Medaris had a dark chapter in his life; one that his PIOs did not always let show up in his official biography.

I've been meaning to write for some time to thank you and Caroline for the many good things you did to make my last stay in Huntsville another bell ringer. As is my talent, I've put it off. At any rate, this affords an opportunity to wish you all the best the New Year can bring--and that won't be nearly good enough for two fine people.

Always,

Jim G. Lucas
