

April 9, 1958

Dear Bus,

We are looking forward with great expectations to your visit in May. We want to and expect to meet the plane. Everyone here always meet their guests at the airport and besides we would for you all anyway.

Wear light weight summer clothes and avoid white. Whites aren't practical for a traveler. You may get here while the dry season is just going out. Usually this is the most uncomfortable time of the year. We will hope that the rainy season is well started for then we get a refreshing shower every afternoon. Incidentally these showers are hour long downpours with much lightning. You do not need a raincoat. You just don't go out in the heavy rain. Too hot for raincoats.

Now for some business. Could you mail (after typing) the enclosed letter to Drew Pearson. He phoned long distance and asked for the trial record. Says he thinks this trial was very important and wants to write articles on it. He'll make some money off it, but, we can't collaborate with him - at least his not. I sent telegram and power of attorney to Danny at Pentagon.

Told them if any other reputable newsmen wanted it I would give it to him also. Inasmuch as he is going to write anyway thought he should have the letter attached.
Please send it to him promptly or it won't get there soon enough.

Give Lorraine a hug for Lowl and me. See you soon.

Yours,

Rich

P. S. Please give my best to Pat, Carl, Jim, and the girls. Love to one like the home team now!!!