Mr. Fred Croxton, Director
Redstone Scientific Information Center
Redstone Arsenal, Alabama

Dear Mr. Croxton:

During the negotiations in 1963 for Contract DA-01-021-AMC-83(Z) between the U. S. Army Missile Support Command and the University of Alabama, an agreement was reached under which certain library services and books would be made available by RSIC to the University to supplement the courses to be provided under the terms of the contract. Under the terms of the agreement, the RSIC was to provide certain books requested by the University of Alabama staff in a completely catalogued condition, certain scientific journal subscriptions and back issues of bound volumes of those journals, a copy of the film of the RSIC card catalogue and a reader-printer for use with the film, messenger service between RSIC and Merton Hall, reproduction of journal articles by Xerox from journals for which subscriptions could not be established, and access to RSIC by University of Alabama students and staff.

Since September of 1963 various changes in the agreement have been placed into effect. In particular the cataloguing of books received has been incomplete, no books have been received since November 27, 1963, no journal subscriptions have been entered, no messenger service has been provided, no film of the RSIC card catalogue nor a reader-printer has been made available, and a limited number of bound volumes in three journal titles have been received.

Negotiation for a contract for graduate studies in 1964-1965 is currently underway. I should like for you to identify to me the status of library assistance which RSIC can and will furnish to aid the graduate program during the year 1964-1965. Your early reply to this request will permit the negotiations for a contract to proceed without interruption.
